

Biography

Paul Christou

1980, PhD University of London (Organic Chemistry); 1980-1982, Postdoc University College London (Plant Biochemistry); 1982-1994, Agracetus Inc. USA, Senior Scientist Molecular and Cellular Plant Biology. Led a team that developed the first transgenic staple crop, soybean, currently being sold by Monsanto Inc; 1994-2001, John Innes Centre, UK, Head, Molecular Biotechnology Unit and Director Tropical Maize and Rice Biotechnology Training laboratory funded by the Rockefeller Foundation, USA; 2001-2004, Fraunhofer Institute of Molecular Biotechnology and Applied Ecology Schmallenberg-Aachen, Germany, Full Professor; 2004-present, ICREA

Professor Universidad de Lleida, Spain; 2012-2015, Director Agrotecnio Center, Lleida, Spain.